IT IS MEN WE NEED SAYS J. CAMPBELL WHITE

Finances Are of Secondary Importance in Mission Work.

In Address Before Missionary Committees of City Churches Last Night Great Leader in Work Pointed Out Above Fact—The Need of Missionary Committees in Churches—Missionary Education the Subject for Tonight—Considerable Interest in the Follow Up Work.

In his address before the pastors of the city and the members of the missionary committees of the several churches last night Mr. J. Campbell White, general secretary of the Laymen's Movement, said that finances are not the thing most needed in missionary work, but it is the giver that is needed, the personal worker, for when the personal workers are secured the financial problem will solve itself. Dr. White also pointed out the fact that the securing of a gift from a person will have a tendency to cause him to study somewhat about the object to which his gift is to be applied and gradually he will increase his gift and at the same time give more and more of his life to the work.

More than one hundred members of the missionary committees of the several churches have enrolled for the conference and the interest last night was most profound. A number of the ministers and laymen took part in the discussion and the session was quite helpful to all. This, Dr. White explained, is the first of the follow up conferences to be held in each of the seventy-five cities in which Laymen's Conferences were held last winter and spring. The first conference was held in Greensboro, he said, because of the great success of the Laymen's Conference held last winter and the leaders felt sure that many valuable suggestions could be obtained here for use in other cities. It was deemed advisable, he said, to concentrate the work as much as possible and for this reason only those of each church on which the responsibility of the mission work of the several churches rest are invited to the conferences. Then two conferences for pastors only will be held. The problem in the Laymen's Missionary work is not to start the movement, but to keep it going and increasing in magnitude all the time. We did not start the Laymen's Movement with the idea that the work could be soon completed. It is a life job, he said.

This afternoon at 3:30 o'clock the second pastor's conference will be held and the final conference for pastors and laymen will be held tonight at 7:30 o'clock. The subject for tonight will be Missionary Education. The meetings are being held in the Sunday school room of the First Baptist church.

The meeting last night was called to order by Mr. A. M. Scales, the stirring hymn "Onward Christian Soldiers" being sung. Judge N. L. Eure led in prayer and "Rock of Ages" was sung. Mr. Scales then turned the meeting over to Mr. White, who first explained the object of the meeting. He then announced that the subject for discussion would be Missionary finances. Before entering upon the discussion he gave some of the reasons for having a missionary committee in a church, which were as follows:

- It divides and locates responsibility.
- It enlists lay activity.
- It reinforces the pastor's efforts.
- It challenges the study of missions.
- It provides great opportunities for service.
- It reaches the membership individually.
- It stimulates the spiritual life.

The speaker here called for the report from the city churches asking for information as to the results of the Laymen's Conference last winter and the following tabulated report was read before the conference, several of the churches having failed to make a report:

Baptist (4), resident members 1188, regular givers to foreign missions 550, percentage 46, number making every member canvass 4, meeting conducted by laymen 1, number of churches that sent laymen to other churches on mission work 1; Presbyterian (5) resident members 1310, regular givers to foreign missions 748, percentage 57, number making every member canvass 3, meetings conducted by laymen 3, number sending workers to other churches on mission work 2; Methodist Episcopal (3) 1565 resident members, 1250 regular givers to foreign missions, 80 per cent, 3 made every member canvass, 3 meetings conducted by laymen, 2 sent laymen into other churches on mission work; Christian (2) 231 resident members, 100 regular givers to foreign missions, 43 per cent, 2 made every member canvass, 2 meetings conducted by laymen; Reformed (1) 90 resident members, 75 regular givers to foreign missions, 83 per cent, made every member canvass, sent laymen to other churches on mission work; Friends (2) 340 resident members, 200 regular givers to foreign missions, 58 per cent, 1 meeting conducted by laymen, sent laymen to other churches on mission work; Methodist Protestant (1) 220 resident members, 250 regular givers to foreign missions, 114 per cent, 1 meeting conducted by laymen, laymen sent to other churches on mission work. (This per cent includes Sunday school, there being 90 per cent. of the church membership who pay through budget plan); Moravian (1) 35 resident members, recently organized and mission work not yet taken up; Apostolic Holiness, (1) 66 resident members, 50 regular givers to foreign missions, 75 per cent; Episcopal (1) 301 resident members, 169 regular givers to foreign missions, 56 per cent, made every member canvass, held one laymen's meeting.

The report showed that Westminster Presbyterian church had sent two delegates to the general conference at Chicago and one representative to the World's Conference in Edinburgh. It also pointed out that West Market Street Methodist church had been exceedingly active and aggressive in the missionary work, two of her young people giving themselves to foreign work.

This report was discussed at length by Dr. White. He stated that while it showed up remarkably well there were still two thousand church members in the city who were not giving to missions. He stated that if the facts were boiled down it would show that a majority of the regular givers were members of the Sunday school and missionary societies and that but comparatively few laymen were subscribers. It is these we need to get, he said. Then followed a number of talks by different pastors and laymen, in which some of the results of the conference last winter were brought out. This proved quite interesting.

Dr. White then pointed out the fact that men are what are needed most in missionary work and that the financial part is of secondary importance. If the men are enlisted in the work then we need have no fear as to the financial side of the matter, he said. He dwelt upon the importance of systematic giving and declared that heads of families should not give to church and mission work for the entire family; that each member should give for himself. A man can just as well pray for each member of his family as he can give for each member, he said, for it is not the amount given so much as it is the educating of one to give regularly and systematically. This is especially essential regarding children. The speaker then called on Mr. C. H. Pratt, district secretary of the Laymen's Movement to show why one should give regularly.

Mr. Pratt asked for some of the reasons why one should give weekly and some of the answers were: because it's scriptural, it keeps it constantly before the members, more productive, causes regular attendance at church, enables missionary work to be carried on without waiting until the end of the year for the money to be forthcoming. Some of Mr. Pratt's reasons were: Because it's scriptural, educational, fair, promotes prayer, enlists larger membership, makes it easy to give more, provides constant support without borrowing, increases other offerings. These reasons were discussed at length.

Mr. Willis R. Hotchkiss, Friends' Missionary to Africa, who was one of the speakers at the Laymen's Conference, was present and he was called upon to make a short talk. He said that the whole purpose of the church was to carry the gospel into all regions and to bring the world to Christ; that when this had been accomplished the mission of the church was fulfilled. He urged the necessity of the ministers keeping the idea of the world enterprise before fore their congregations. "We are fighting a spiritual battle and must use spiritual forces in the work," said Mr. Hotchkiss.

Pastor's Conference.

The first pastor's conference was held yesterday afternoon, practically every pastor in the city being present. Some of the subjects discussed were: Missions on the program of Christ, the pastor's place of leadership, the pastor and missionary education, the pastor and missionary finance, the pastor and missionary recruits, the pastor's relation to prayer for missions.

Meeting For Public.

This afternoon at 2:30 o'clock Mr. J. Campbell White will make an address in the First Baptist church. A cordial invitation is extended the public to attend. The meeting will begin promptly at 2:30 as Mr. White has to attend another meeting at 3:30.

Will Have Field Secretary.

The State Executive Committee of the Laymen's Missionary Movement held a meeting last night following the conference at which it was decided to put a field secretary in the field if the necessary funds could be secured. A canvassing committee was appointed, the committee to report tonight.

THE COST OF A TITLE.

A Pretty Sum Required of Those who Climb the Ladder of Rank.

Speaking of the number of baronets, lords and other new members of the nobility created this year an English writer says:

The cost of advancement is realized when one learns that every baronet has to pay heavily for his title.

This is made up of the payment demanded for the granting of letters patent—that is, stamp duties—Crown Office fees and Home Office fees. The Crown Office swallows up just under half of the total payment, the stamp duties a trifle less, while the Home Office comes in with a modest little demand for the remainder.

Considering the difference in social standing a baronet and a baron, 300 or so does not seem a great deal extra to pay for this latter most coveted title. Altogether a baronage costs $1,800. Proceeding up the social ladder, it costs $2,235 to be a viscount, $2,665 to be a belted earl, $3,475 to bear the distinguished title of marquis, while the individual whose unhappy lot is to be created a duke has to plunk down no less than $4,045 in fees.

To refuse a title is generally regarded as a very great and noble act, but it should be realized that a lack of finances with which to support a new position is just as often the cause as contempt of "empty honors." Those who figure on the honor list are acquainted beforehand with what the cost of their new position is likely to be; and no opportunity, no loophole is allowed them to accept and then declare they haven't got the cash and didn't understand all fees being collected strictly in advance. This businesslike proceeding has been ruefully declared to come very near taking the gilt off the coronet. Beyond this is the heavily increased expense of maintaining the dignity of the new position.

"It Beats All"

This is quoted from a letter of M. Stockwell, Hannibal, Mo. "I recently used Foley's Honey and Tar for the first time. To say I am pleased does not half express my feelings. It beats all the remedies I ever used. I contracted a bad cold and was threatened with pneumonia. The first dose gave great relief and one bottle completely cured me." Contains no opiates. HID FORTUNE IN BUSTLE.

Now Must Show That It Is Hers and Not Husband's.

St. Louis, Oct. 1.—When bustles went out of style Mrs. Ole Mackler, who for 25 years had carried more than $15,000 in bills of $1,000 denomination in that article of apparel, having no other way to dispose of the money, invested in real estate and coal mines.

In consequence of this very effective concealment and investment of her fortune she is having great difficulty in convincing the world that $75,000 worth of property is her own and was not given to her by her husband, John Mackler, to defraud his creditors.

She is fighting in three States to retain the property.

Until Uncle Jesse W. Sikes, trustee in bankruptcy for the estate of John Mackler, filed suit to recover this property she was known only as an ordinary housewife, doing her own work and receiving small spending money from her husband.

A WONDERFUL RUG.

Americans Are Fast Learning to Distinguish the Various Orientals.

Probably the most wonderful Oriental rug that has been brought to this country is the Hereka palace prayer rug that was woven by the favorite wives of the deposed Sultan Abdul Hamid II, and secured by William M. Butler for the firm which he represents.

Admiration for the Oriental rug is growing in the United States, and where a few years ago those who recognized a rug merely as an "Oriental," now are sufficiently familiar with them and their history to be able to recognize them as from certain districts even can specify from which looms they were delivered.

We know the Saraband, with its alternate rows of the palm or pear patterns, the sacred flame of the Persian devotee; the Bokhara, with its divided hexagon and its deep, rich red ground; the royal Kirmanshah, with its intricate floral and geometric designs and the heavy silk Kazan, with its symbolic figures in its rich shades of red and blue and yellow.

Work on these wonderful soft creations is done in many instances by women with the most primitive looms and in surroundings that are far from artistic.

The collecting of Oriental rugs is a luxury that not everyone may experience, but when such a collection is started it is always best to ignore "cheap" rugs. Buy fewer of them and have only those that are artistic and genuine and you will have something that will give the utmost pleasure and value for the outlay.

The true Oriental rug often takes years to make and is really the concrete dream of some Persian, Turkish or other Oriental artist.

It's the one perfect healer of Cuts, Corns, Burns, Bruises, Sores, Scalds, Boils, Ulcers, Eczema, Salt Rheum, For Sore Eyes, Cold Sores, Chapped Hands, or Sprains, it's supreme. Infallible for Piles. WOMAN'S LEAP TO DEATH.

Prays on Roof for Hungry Family and Jumps to Street.

New York, Oct. 1.—The problem of the high cost of living and how to meet it had been confronting Mrs. Tillie Kahlman, of 310 East Houston street, for many weeks. Her husband, Henry, works in a sweatshop, Ida, 15 months old, and David, born five weeks ago, entered into the problem.

When her husband and the children were asleep Mrs. Kahlman went to the roof of the seven-story tenement house in which she lived and, with a prayer for the three down stairs, jumped to instant death on the side-walk. The children will be cared for by a Jewish society and will not want for food.

The woman told her neighbors before David was born that she knew she was doing wrong, as was every other woman, to bring children into the world.

A Generous and Charitable Wish.

"I wish all might know of the benefit I received from your Foley's Kidney Remedy," says I. N. Regan, Farmer, Mo. His kidneys and bladder gave him so much pain, misery and annoyance, he could not work nor sleep. He says Foley's Kidney Remedy completely cured him. Sold by Howard Gardner.

"It is that. She should have used noiseless powder."—Baltimore American.

Capt. Bogardus Again Hits the Bull's Eye.

This world famous rifle shot who holds the championship record of 100 pigeons in 100 consecutive shots is living at Lincoln, Ill. Recently interviewed, he says:—"I suffered a long time with kidney and bladder trouble and used several medicines, all of which gave me no relief until I started taking Foley Kidney Pills. Before I used Foley Kidney Pills I had severe backaches and pains in my kidneys with suppression and a cloudy voiding. On arising in the morning I would get dull headaches. Now I have taken three bottles of Foley Kidney Pills and feel 100 per cent better. I am never bothered with my kidneys or bladder and again feel like my own self." Sold by Howard Gardner.

NEW GUINEA PYGMIES.

The Spear and Bow and Poisoned Arrows Their Chief Weapons.

Our knowledge of the pygmies of New Guinea shows that in habit they are nomadic, nowhere tilling the ground, but depending for their living entirely on their skill in hunting and fishing. Their chief weapon is the bow, their arrows being generally poisoned either with the famous upas or some other similar vegetable poison. In some cases a species of strychnine. They also make use of the spear and an ingenious form of spring gun which is common to numerous other forest tribes. This is formed by setting a flattened bamboo spear attached to a bent sapling, which is fastened to a trigger in such a way that it is released by the passerby stumbling against an invisible string stretched across a game track. These spears are really set for game, and to the initiated they are obvious enough, as their presence is always indicated by certain well known signs, such as a broken off twig placed in a cleft stick. In war these signs are removed, the removal being equivalent to the moving of buoys in a mined channel. The wounds inflicted by these hardened bamboo spears are necessarily serious. The mental qualities of the Negritos are extremely undeveloped, none of them being able to express a higher numerical idea than three, but all observers who have met them unite in saying that they are a merry little people, with great ideas of hospitality when their confidence has been gained and provided they have not been previously ill treated. They are not cannibals and are generally monogamous. —London Times.

LIGHTNING FLASHES.

Many Things Concerning Them That Science Cannot Fathom.

A young girl in charge of two children, sheltering under a tree on Chislehurst common, was struck by lightning and killed—one of those dreadful instances of the sort of personal touch with which lightning seems to select its victims, for, though one child is reported to have been thrown down, neither apparently was injured. There are many instances, of course, of this strange selection, due in most cases probably to some accident of clothing. There is a well remembered case which happened some years ago at Cambridge, when three young men were walking across an open space of ground, and the middle one of the three was struck dead, while the others were untouched. The inquest showed that the young man who was killed had nails in his boots, whereas the others were wearing boating shoes. The phenomena of thunderstorms have been the subject of much study in America. But if thunderstorms can be classified, they are still not thoroughly understood. We do not yet know what are the exact conditions which lead to a discharge of electricity in the form of a lightning flash from cloud to cloud or from cloud to earth. We cannot reproduce thunder and lightning in a laboratory. We do not know what is the origin of the electrification manifested in a storm. —London Spectator.

Tickling the Debtors.

John Barrett was only twenty-seven years old when President Cleveland appointed him minister to Siam. The first important task which confronted the youthful envoy was to press a claim against the Siamese government for $1,000,000. Experienced ambassadors warned him against using threats in obtaining the money. "Be cunning; avoid arrogance," they said. "That is," responded Mr. Barrett, "you favor tickling with a straw to pricking with a bayonet." The statesman nodded assent. When the young minister had finally succeeded in collecting the claim the ambassadors asked in astonishment, "How did you accomplish it?" "By tickling," explained Barrett. "I had to tickle them almost to death, though, before they agreed to pay it."

Quaint Remedies.

Among the members of the Greek church in Macedonia the following recipes are regarded as highly useful: To pacify one's enemies write the psalm "Known In Judea," dissolve it in water and give your enemy to drink thereof, and he will be pacified. For a startled and frightened man take three dry chestnuts and sow thistle and three glasses of old wine and let him drink thereof early and late. Write also "In the beginning was the word" and let him carry it.

Plump Birdie.

She (after the service)—You dreadful fellow! Why did you smile during the offertory? He—1 couldn't help it. There was Miss Addie Pose singing "Had I the wings of a dove." The mental picture of a 200 pounder trying to fly with a pair of four inch wings was too much for me.

Every one should lend a hand to secure results this "clean up" week. A clean city means a sanitary, healthy city. Let every one get busy.

President Taft promises that if the Republicans continue in the majority they will carry his policies through to completion. Mr. President, that's a big "if."

"Go west young man," said Horace Greely. But most people are inclined to stay away from the West when they read as they do about newspaper offices being blown up and attempts being made to blow up private homes. All this happened Saturday in Los Angeles, Cal., where the Times building was blown up, nineteen persons losing their lives, and infernal machines were found on the premises of well known citizens. The crimes are charged to organized labor in Los Angeles, but the leaders of organized labor deny that organized labor is to blame. It is to be hoped that the guilty parties will be run down and that prompt and adequate punishment will be dealt out to them.

The New York Herald never enthuses over anything. It is always calm and self-contained, and it is thoroughly independent. Here's the view it takes of the Democratic convention at Rochester:

The gathering at Rochester was a real convention. Its selection of candidates and its declaration of principles represent not the orders of a boss, but the will and the views of the vast majority of the assemblage, and therefore will strongly appeal not only to Democrats, but to independent voters who resent one-man domination.

"Independent voters who resent one-man domination" are said to control the situation in New York State. The Democrats have a splendid chance this year to carry New York State.

In Oklahoma the candidates crowd a lot of work into one day. For instance we find in the Tulsa Democrat the following itinerary of one day for Lee Cruce, Democratic candidate for Governor:

Leave Tulsa 7:30 a. m., arrive at Turley 8 a. m., leave Turley at 8:30 a. m., arrive at Skiatook 9:00 a. m., leave Skiatook 9:30 a. m., arrive at Owasso 10:30 a. m., leave Owasso 11:00 a. m., arrive at Dawson 11:30 a. m.; leave Dawson 12 m. arrive at Broken Arrow 1 p. m.; leave Broken Arrow 2:30 p. m. arrive at Fry 3:00 p. m.; leave Fry 3:30 p. m., arrive at Jenks 4:00 p. m.; leave Jenks at 4:30 p. m. arrive at Tulsa at 5:30 p. m. Speaks at Tulsa at 8 p. m.

Plainly, in Oklahoma the candidates for office take themselves and their candidacy very seriously. There is no dilettante business about running for office in that new but exceedingly wide-awake commonwealth.

The appended article from the Tulsa (Oklahoma) Democrat makes agreeable reading for that large class of people who have thought all along that Gov. Haskell, of Oklahoma, while perhaps not without serious faults has been a much misused man. When the former President gets into the throes of a campaign he throws conscience to the four winds of Heaven and unhesitatingly adopts any sort of means rather than fail to accomplish an end. Every one recalls the violent language he used in his own behalf in the Presidential campaign of 1904. Similarly in behalf of Taft in 1908 and to injure the Bryan candidacy he pounced on Gov. Haskell, a conspicuous Bryan supporter, with all the prestige of his great office. And with what final result the editorial from the Oklahoma paper shows:

In the midst of the rejoicing over his victory in the New York state convention yesterday Mr. Roosevelt must have felt a distinct sense of disappointment when he read the dispatch from McAlester telling of the dismissal of the so-called town lot fraud cases against Governor Haskell and others. For, from the beginning of the miserable fiasco to its farcical end the entire motive behind the prosecution has been the satisfaction of a personal grudge which Mr. Roosevelt bears Haskell and in which he was aided and abetted by the unspeakable Hearst.

In the attempt to break the governor down politically and ruin his reputation and character something like a half million dollars of the people's money has been squandered. High priced special prosecuting officers were employed for months and months. All of the energies of the secret service were devoted to searching the country for evidence. Not a nook or a cranny was left unexplored. Witnesses were dragged from their homes in far away Maine and New Hampshire and brought to Oklahoma under guard as though they themselves were accused of some heinous crime. Grand juries were empanelled and petit juries summoned. A judge was sent all the way from Utah entailing loss of time and money.

And what did it all amount to? Simply that Mr. Roosevelt, then president of the United States determined to use all of the power of his great office to work his revenge on Haskell and when the present administration came into office it inherited these malicious prosecutions and had to make a showing of going through with them. To the credit of the present head of the department of justice and to the president be it said right here that in the last year there has been an abatement of the singular ferocity with which the charges were pushed during the Roosevelt regime. The Taft administration has conducted the cases deliberately and carefully with the result that the whole house of cards falls to the ground and T. R. and the other conspirators are caught in the brushheap.

The end of the farce demonstrates that whatever the politicians may try to do, however they may try to subvert the ends of justice, for their personal aggrandizement there can be found, here and there, a judge who stands as a bulwark against the oppressor, who stands for the right of every accused man to have a fair and impartial trial. Such a man is Judge Marshall, who has presided at all of the hearings of the Haskell case and who has impressed both bar and laity by his fairness and knowledge of the law. In the midst of the turmoil and confusion of tongues which has purposely been raised to obscure the real issue and make up for lack of evidence Judge Marshall never lost his poise or permitted himself to be swept from the foundations of common sense and justice by a great grandstand play.

EIGHTY-FIVE CARS TO RINGLING BROS.

Over a Thousand Employees—Forty Elephants and 650 Horses—Street Parade Over Three Miles in Length—The Menagerie in the Parade in Open Dens and Cages.

Ringling Brothers' circus will exhibit in Greensboro Monday, Oct. 24. In its entirety, from the 1,250 men, women and children employed, the 650 horses, 108-cage zoo, 40 good-natured elephants to the pink lemonade man, the big aggregation will be transported to this city from Raleigh in 85 double-length railroad cars.

And there will be a street parade which is said to be over three miles in length from leader to calliope. In it may be seen elephants hitched to a great India float, in which a potentate with his retinue sits in state. Another immense chariot of gold is drawn by twenty camels. The procession is headed by a team of twenty-four white horses hitched to a great hand-carved float. Every mile of this great pageant is a mile of wonders. There are 1,200 people in the line. A larger menagerie than any other circus possesses is disclosed in this parade in open dens and cages. Two-thirds of all the elephants in America are shown.

And the performance is in keeping with the parade. The great gathering of arenic stars which are concerned in this part of the circus number over three hundred members. There are 125 big acts in the program, and twenty European features which have never before been seen in this country.

It is the first appearance in this country of the Saxon trio. These great giants of muscle hold the world's record for heavy lifting. One of the trio lies upon his back and elevates a heavy plank on which are seated eleven men. Lifting at the same time with his hands and arms a 250-pound weight and two other men. Two members of the trio support a two-ton bridge while an automobile is driven over carrying six passengers.

Then there is Ernest Clark, imported this year, who turns a complete triple somersault while flying from one trapeze to another; the Lorch family of German acrobats; the Alex troupe, of Russia; the Cottrell-Powell company of riders, from Italy, and Fitzgerald's 15 English athletic girls.

Still another great novelty is Schuman's school of educated horses, from the Circus Schuman, Berlin, Germany. The horses of this act are secreted in huge beer barrels and loaded on a big brewery wagon. They are hauled into the arena. The horses are not discovered by the spectator until the dumb creatures kick out the barrel heads and jump into the ring. These horses seat themselves at tables and drink from large glasses. One horse smokes a pipe. Another horse skips the rope. Then there is a horse that enters the arena hitched to a Victoria. When the driver turns to flirt with his passenger, the horse shakes himself free from the harness, takes his master by the collar and jerks him from the rig. The horse then jumps into the vehicle and seats himself beside the astonished young woman.

As a mirth provoker comes Keely's elephants. Three herds of these great beasts play a game of baseball. There is an elephant that twirls the pigskin, an elephant that presides behind the home plate and a herd of husky willow widders that swat the ball with the ease of a professional diamond star.

An elephant acts as umpire, trumpeting decisions on balls and strikes. In the big menagerie may be seen Darwin, the brainiest chimpanzee in captivity. Darwin wears male apparel. He eats his food with full table equipment, sleeps in a real bed, shaves himself, cuts paper with scissors; in fact, mimics the human race in every manner but with voice.

IN HONOR OF MISS BOULDIN

Miss Mary Callum Gives Delightful Dinner Complimentary To Her.

At her home on Smith street last night Miss Mary Callum entertained at a 6 o'clock dinner of seven courses in honor of Miss Helen Bouldin, who is to be married to Mr. John A. Kleemeier Thursday night. It was one of the most charming of several delightful affairs that have been given in honor of Miss Bouldin.

Covers were laid for ten including the bridesmaids and a few close friends. The decorations conformed to a color scheme of pink and white all over the house and they were very effectively arranged. White pasteboard hearts bearing the date of the wedding served as place cards.

Toasts were given and responded to as follows: "To the Bride To Be," "To the Girls Who Are Soon to Wed," "To the Girls Who Are Left Behind."

Mr. and Mrs. Byerly Bereaved.

Elizabeth, the 7 months old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. Byerly, 810 McGee street, died yesterday morning shortly before 11 o'clock. The parents will leave with the remains today on number 21 for Lexington and from there will go to Holly Grove, where the burial will take place.

Meeting of Musical Association Postponed.

A Good Position

Can be had by ambitious young men and ladies in the field of "Wireless" or Railway telegraphy. Since the 8-hour law became effective, and since the Wireless companies are establishing stations throughout the country there is a great shortage of telegraphers. Positions pay beginners from $70 to $90 per month, with good chance of advancement. The National Telegraph institute operates six official institutes in America, under supervision of R. R. and Wireless Officials and places all graduates into positions. It will pay you to write them for full details at Cincinnati, O., Philadelphia, Pa., Memphis, Tenn., Davenport, Ia., Columbia, S. C., or Portland, Ore., according to where you wish to enter.

THE "DREAM" FROCK NOW.

It is More Amazing Than Hobble, Bolster or Stovepipe Gown.

Kansas City Star.

Enter the "dream frock."
It walked into the annual convention of the Chicago dressmakers at the Palace House, in Chicago, and drove everything before it, not excepting the hobble and bolster slips and the stovepipe patterns.

The "dream frock" is a dream.
It is as full of peculiarities as the heathen Chinese. A "dream frock" is as hard to recognize as a jelly fish or a chameleon. When you don't see it, it's probably there.

The properly constructed "dream frock" is as thin as it can be and still stay on. It is cut after the bolster slip idea, but has the same relation to the remainder of a well-dressed woman's clothes as a filmy veil has to her face. It softens things and produces a foggy, lazy, don't-know-whether-it-is-so-or-isn't impression.

Most of the "dream frocks" may be rolled up and tucked away in an ordinary sized thimble, but they cost like sin.

At the theatrical matinee, which was conducted last Thursday afternoon, one was exhibited which cost $350. It was worn by Miss Daisy Lehay, an English actress.

Not on account of this gown, but for a far more important reason, Miss Lehay was invited to appear before the dressmakers.

She knows how to sit down.
Why, lots of women know how to—No; that's just it.

With the development of the stovepipe skirt, sitting down becomes the most serious proposition for the fashionably dressed woman. Miss Lehay has learned the trick.

She backs up to a chair and then sits.

"I just fall from the knees," she explained.

Miss Lehay backs up to a chair with a sort of sidewise, crawfish motion, puts one foot out behind, to be sure the chair is there, and then simply falls until she lands.

The hard part of it is to make the knees bend quickly at just the right moment.

Building Permits.

During the month of September building permits were issued by Building Inspector R. H. Milton for 17 buildings, the estimated cost aggregating about $30,000. This is a considerable increase over the month of August.

Didn't Give Him the Chance.

Schopenhauer, when staying in Geneva, used to go every day to a table d'hôte at which now and then appeared other distinguished visitors. Once Lady Byron sat next to him.
"Doctor," said the host after she had left, with a twinkle in his eye, "doctor, do you know who sat next to you at the table today? It was Lady Byron."

"Why the deuce did you not tell me this before?" replied Schopenhauer; "I should have liked to be rude to her."
"That was what I feared," said the host, "and for that reason I kept it quiet."

Very Thorough.

New York's collector of customs was talking about smuggling.
"Smuggling must cease," he said.
"We'll make it cease, if we have to be as strict and thorough as the French customs officer. This strict officer, standing on the pier, frowned on a tourist with a swollen cheek.
"What have you got there?" he said, pointing to the swelling.
"An abscess, sir," was the reply.
"Well," said the officer impatiently, "open it, please."—Washington Star.

It Had an Effect.

"Did that sarcastic letter you wrote to the milkman requesting him to let you attend to the job of watering the milk now that you have a new filter in the kitchen faucet have any effect?"
"It did," said the joker. "He delivers the bottles now only two-thirds full."—New York Sun.

The Error.

Sandy—Doctor, man, there's a wee bit error in this bill o' yours. Ye've charged me for advice. Ah never tuk it.—London Punch.

POINTED PARAGRAPHS.

Your Freckles

Attention in October or Face Will Stay Covered.

Another is the time to take special care of the complexion if you wish to look well the rest of the Fall and Winter. The summer sun has brought out freckles that will stay the rest of the year unless removed now with Othine—double strength.

This prescription for the cure of freckles is the discovery of an eminent skin specialist, and is so uniformly successful that it is sold by Howard Gardner, under the guarantee to refund the money if it fails. Get an ounce of Othine—double strength, and even the first night's application will show a wonderful improvement, some of the smaller freckles even vanishing entirely.

THE PARSON'S CHECKS.

They Were Politely Drawn, but the Bank Threw Them Out.

According to George Cary Eggleston, Virginians of ante bellum days showed great indifference in money matters. Money in the form of coin was rarely seen. The planters were in the habit of writing checks on a slip of foolscap, instructing the bank to "please" pay the amount specified. Eggleston says: "This custom of paying by check so strongly commended itself to a certain unworldly parson of my time that he resorted to it on one occasion in entire ignorance and innocence of the necessity of having a bank deposit as a preliminary to the drawing of checks. He went to Richmond and bought a year's supplies for his little place—it was too small to be called a plantation—and for each purchase he drew a particularly polite check.

"When the banks threw these out on the ground that their author had no account the poor old parson found the situation a difficult one to understand. He had thought that the very purpose of a bank's being was to cash checks for persons who happened to be short of money. 'Why, if I'd had the money in the bank,' he explained, 'I shouldn't have written the checks at all; I should have got the money and paid the bills.'

"Fortunately the matter came to the knowledge of a well to do and generous planter who knew Parson J. and who happened to be in Richmond at the time. His indorsement made the checks good and saved the unworldly old parson a deal of trouble."—Chicago News.

WHY PENNIES ARE SCARCE.

Edward Cover Says Uncle Sam's Colonies Use so Many of Them.

Baltimore Evening Sun. That Uncle Sam's new possessions are devouring the hundreds of thousands of pennies that appear to be swallowed up is the opinion of Edward Cover, assistant cashier of the United Fruit Co., at Banes, Cuba, who is stopping in this city for a few weeks, while his wife is a patient at the Johns Hopkins Hospital. The Philadelphia mint coined 146,000,000 pennies last year and it expected that 100,000,000 will be made this year, with an equally large number to be coined next year.

Mr. Cover said: "I read an article in your paper about pennies disappearing. That can be accounted for very easily. I think, for Cuba is getting hundreds of thousands of them. Only a few weeks ago over 100,000 were taken there and put in circulation. You see, the United States money is used on the island just as much as it is here. That was one of the first steps taken by General Wood when he became Governor-General.

"For many years we had no pennies nor any coins to take the place of pennies. Whenever it was necessary to give a man his full money when he had made odd change we would give him a written check. These checks were ordered out of use by General Wood. The half-cent was often used up to the time the United States took charge, not in coin, but on paper, and that has also been dispensed with.

"With the thousands of employees of the fruit and other companies on the island and getting pennies in their pay envelopes, it does not take long for the small coins to disappear from the States. I think it will take some time before the full supply of pennies needed for circulation on the island will be secured."

Women's Secrets

There is one man in the United States who has perhaps heard more women's secrets than any other man or woman in the country. These secrets are not secrets of guilt or shame, but the secrets of suffering, and they have been confided to Dr. R. V. Pierce in the hope and expectation of advice and help. That few of these women have been disappointed in their expectations is proved by the fact that ninety-eight per cent. of all women treated by Dr. Pierce have been absolutely and altogether cured. Such a record would be remarkable if the cases treated were numbered by hundreds only. But when that record applies to the treatment of more than half-a-million women, in a practice of over 40 years, it is phenomenal, and entitles Dr. Pierce to the gratitude accorded him by women, as the first of specialists in the treatment of women's diseases.

Every sick woman may consult Dr. Pierce by letter, absolutely without charge. All replies are mailed, sealed in perfectly plain envelopes, without any printing or advertising whatever, upon them. Write without fear as without fee, to World's Dispensary Medical Association, Dr. R. V. Pierce, Pres., Buffalo, N. Y.

Enough Style Comfort Enough Enough Wear

Our "Terry Special" grade at $5.00 equals the best custom, bench-made shoe.

You don't know it, but every manufacturer of shoes knows that he can play up any one feature he cares to in producing a shoe to sell. He can make it stylish at the expense of wear and comfort, or comfortable by cutting into style and wear, or he can turn out a shoe so heavy and stocky it will never wear out—but there will be no semblance of style left and the foot forced to wear it would be in prison. He also knows that a nicely balanced combination of these three shoe virtues is about the hardest problem in shoe making.

The CRADDOCK SHOE

WASH THAT ITCH AWAY

It is said that there are certain springs in Europe that give relief and cure to Eczema and other skin diseases. If you know that by washing in these waters you could be relieved from that awful itch, wouldn't you make every effort to take a trip to Europe at once? Would you not be willing to spend your last cent to find the cure?

But you need not leave home for these distant springs. Relief is right here in your own home town! A simple wash of Oil of Wintergreen, Thymol and other ingredients as compounded only in D. D. D. Prescription will bring instant relief to that terrible burning itch, and leave the skin as smooth and healthy as that of a child.

If you have not already tried it, get at least a 25-cent bottle today. We assure you of instant relief.

WHY HE DOES IT.

It isn't often that we have faith enough in the medicines put up by other people to be willing to offer to refund the money if it does not cure, said Druggist Gardner to one of his many customers, "but I am glad to sell Dr. Howard's specific for the cure of constipation and dyspepsia on that plan."

"The Dr. Howard Co., in order to get a quick introductory sale authorized me to sell the regular fifty cent bottle of their specific for half price, 25 cents, and although I have sold a lot of it, and guaranteed every package, not one has been brought back as unsatisfactory."

There are sixty doses in a vial that can be carried in the vest pocket or purse, and every one has more medicinal power than a big pill or tablet or a tumbler of mineral water.

Any person who is subject to constipation, sick headache, dizziness, liver trouble, indigestion or a general played out condition, ought to take advantage of this opportunity.
